Still a man's world?

Only 1 in 4 Indian investors is a woman.

But the tide is turning. Swipe to see where.

India's most women investors aren't in Mumbai. They're in Mizoram.

In matrilineal states like Mizoram and Nagaland, women investors are highest, 44% and 39%. Where culture gives women financial agency, they take it.

Small towns, big ambitions.

Younger women in smaller cities are becoming more proactive, breaking the old myth of low financial inclusion in these areas. Participation is 60% higher in B30 towns (towns beyond India's top 30 metros) than in metros. Their share of women's total AUM also rose from 20.1% in 2019 to 25.2% in 2024.

Women are better long-term investors

Because women invest differently: they trade less, hold longer, and avoid the overconfidence that leads to poor timing. The share of women's AUM held for 5+ years has doubled from 8.8% to 21.3%.
